

"I was immersed in a community of peer-learners facing the same challenges. It was an opportunity to grapple with practical administrative issues particular to LC schools. Networking and sharing of ideas were invaluable!"

-Jeff DeVaney, Principal
Lincoln Elementary
Brainerd, MN

"As a central office administrator, I learned how I could support the building principal as he/she worked with the literacy coordinator and staff to make the Literacy Collaborative an exciting and vibrant model for transforming classroom literacy instruction. It has been wonderful for our children... we are growing great readers and writers!"

-Deborah Grove, Ph. D, Title I Supervisor
Williamsport Area School District
Williamsport, PA

"Attending the Academy was a wonderful hands-on way to see the LC framework in action. I witnessed first hand how 'word walls' can be a guiding force in building students' reading independence. Watching teachers do guided reading groups while students 'monitored their reading/writing' was very powerful."

-Berta Johnson, Principal
Kae Avenue Elementary
Whitehall, OH

Successful change projects always include elements of both pressure & support.

Pressure without support leads to resistance and alienation.

Support without pressure leads to drift or waste of resources.

LITERACY LEADER ACADEMY

Literacy Leader Academy is a blended (synchronous and asynchronous) virtual professional learning academy designed to empower individuals, such as administrators, superintendents, curriculum leaders, and coaches, who lead teams, to become a Literacy Leader in their building or district. The synchronous sessions are provided on the schedule below. These live sessions will be recorded and available for a limited time afterward. Asynchronous coursework includes short readings with responses, traditional or virtual classroom observations with reflections, and other assignments that can be embedded in your own work easily.

Sessions will explain how you can support best practice in literacy by understanding the theory that supports it, what it should look like in a classroom, what resources are necessary, authentic conversations with teachers about their practice, and how to support teachers in their ongoing professional learning.

Sessions are designed to support you in becoming a transformational leader by identifying and exploring your current strengths as a leader, as you cultivate new habits and resilience to lead through challenging times. Practical tools and protocols are shared for ways to improve your ability to lead fellow educators in traditional and virtual settings.

This academy is highly recommended for administrators in schools affiliated with Literacy Collaborative or those considering joining the Literacy Collaborative network. However, you do not need to be affiliated with Literacy Collaborative to take advantage of this impactful professional learning.

Quotes from attendees—

“The modeling of practice impacted my learning and gave me the confidence to go back to my district and engage in the practices and have deeper conversations with teachers.”

“Hands on practice with the methods (of balanced literacy) kept me engaged and made methods attainable, relatable.”

“I especially appreciated the modeling sessions and conversations with other building leaders.”
